How to Look Less Than Your Age

There are three golden rules that every woman who would ward of signs og advancing age should follow:

1. Cultivate chestiuiness. These who understand the physiological effect or worying knew this advice should be taken more seriously than it usually is.

2. Whenever the complexion begins to look worn or withered, use ordinary mercolized wax for a week or two. Apply nightly like cold cream, erasing it marnings with warm water. This gradually absorbs the thin film of surface skin, revealing the fresher and younger skin underneath. An ounce of the wax obtainable at any drug atore, is shough to rejuvenate any complexion.

3. When the telitale wrinkles appear, or cheek and chin muscles begin to sag, bathe the face once a day for a while in a solution of powdered sax cilte, 1 oz., dissolved in 14 pt. of witch hazel. This has a remarkable effect in firming up" and smoothing out the skin.

afternoon, through Saturday night and over Sunday will provide a dozen cases for the police court this morning, although none were of any particularly serious character, and in the two or three breach of the peace cases no blows were struck that caused wounds.

The record began with Joseph Kosloski on Saturday afternoon whom James Conway caught stealing a bottle of whiskey in the Conway place at 274 Main street. Mr. Conway sent out for Policeman Patrick Murphy who took the accused man to the lockup.

In the early part of Saturday evening Sergeant John H. Kane found a Greeneville man intoxicated on Rose place where he had fallen and had been helped up by a friend. Supernumerary Jehn Donovan was the next to bring a prisoner to police headquarters to be locked up, arresting two in succession for intoxication, one a Norwich resident and the other from Attleboro.

GENERAL WASHINGTON'S MARRIED IN NORWICH

FAREWELL ADDRESS Quoted by Rev. J. H. Broderick in Sermon on Necessity of Religious Addressing his people at St. Patrick's church Sunday, Rev. J. H. Broderick preached from Tobias I., 10: from his infancy he taught him to fear God and to abstain from all sin.

from his infancy he taught him to fear God and to abstain from all sin. The sermon was in connection with his announcement that the parish school would reopen Wednesday with a mass at 8.45, that the pupils might unite with the priests in asking Almishty God to bless the children and their work for the coming year.

The wise and hely Tobias, the preacher said, loving his son deeply, began his education early, teaching him to lear God and to abstain from all sin. Education has been defined as a preparation for life; and from the Catholic standpoint it means preparation for life here and hereafter. The councils of Baltimore have counseled that in every parish of sufficient size the school stand beside the church. An education which develops merely the mental side of the student, fits him to get on in the world, yet neglects the spiritual side of his being, is congidered wholly inadequate. Especially is this so in the atmosphere of a practically non-religious country.

The church holds that morality cannot be taught without a foundation of religion as is attempted in other schools; and here the preacher read from the farewell address of George Washington, who impressed the point that a national morality is impossible where religious principles are eliminated.

It is necessary, too, that the growing youth be taught the reason for the faith that is in them, and this cannot be done adequately by imperfect, unsystematic, intermittent teaching at home, or by brief instruction in the Sunday school. It must be constant, intelligent and systematic, to teach the child how to resist life's temptations.

Referring to the matter of results as judged from the side of the mental training given, the prencher admonished parents that their children are given to them as a sacred trust; that they are responsible for their are given to them as a sacred trust; that they are responsible for their souls, and that it is not enough to put them in the way of achieving worldly successes if they have not as well the training which fortifies them to lead lives of virtue. The scripture says: What doth it profit a man to gain the whole world if he lose his own soul? The same application was made to the so-called higher education and the dangers to the souls of impressionable

Large Gathering at Benoit Sullivan Clambake Held at Naturalization Club Grounds—Sacred Heart Lawn Festival a Success—Holiday Visitors and Other Notes.

Over 150 guests gathered at the Naturalization Club grounds on Sunday to participate in the festivities at the annual clambake of the Sullivan and Benoit club and it was generally conceded to be the best of the season. The committee in charge of the bake were on the grounds at an early hour Sunday morning and were kept busy the entire day perfecting the carefully made plans. Many of the guests assembled in the forenoon and the majority and arrived when the chowder was served at noon. Four long tables were set up in the hall of the Naturalization club house and covers for 160 were laid. The luncheon menu was as follows:

Sandwiches Fried Eels
Clam Chowder Soda Crackers
Brown and White Bread, with Butter Brown and White Bread, with Butter
Tomatoes and Cucumbers, sliced
Sliced Beets in Vinegar
Lettuce
There were a number of athletic contests during the day and the participants showed much interest and enthusiasm. Fred Haster and Napoleon Fournier claimed the championship at quakes over Roy and Simono but there is some question as to which team the championship belongs as both teams were pretty evenly matched. A. Larose won the 150 yard dash and Hormisdas Germain proved the champion jumper. Joseph Charuese and D. Benoit entertained with vocal selections and Fred Dugas gave an after 7 o'clock.

Sunday afternoon about 6 o'clock Policeman Ryan was called to White street on word that a fight was in progress there. With the assistance of Supernumerary M. J. Dwyer three arrests were made, John Bostock, Peter Drusbeck and Bodeslaw Uryn. All were accused of breach of the peace, and the first named was also accused of intoxication. He was the complainant against the other two. A man who came to police headquarters in the wake of the procession of policemen and prisoners claimed that he selections and Fred Dugas gave an exhibition of roller skating while H. Germain appeared in a buck and wing men and prisoners claimed that he saw the difficulty and it arose from a wrestling match in which Drusbeck, the largest of the men, continually dance.

During the afternoon the guests gathered in twos and threes and strolled about the grounds or watched the busy chef at work. The big bake came a little after four o'clock and it was served in the downed the complainant, who was a the chowder, was served in the hall. The excellent menu fol-

Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Steele of Wales, Mass., on Friday observed the sixtieth anniversary of their wedding by keeping open house to their friends and neighbors and during the afternoon and evening many called to offer their congratulations. Mr. and Mrs. Steele were married September 4, 1854, in Norwich, Ct., by Rev. W. O. Cady. It was a triple wedding, as two other couples ere married at the same time.

Mr. Steele was born in West Hartford, Conn., February 27, 1834, and is now 80 years old. Mr. Steele learned the trade of a shoemaker and became very expert at his trade and during the civil war he was in charge of the shoe shops at the reformatory on Randall's Island at New York. He was a witness of many stirring events during the draft riots in New York. He later removed to Tolland, Ct., and took up farming, remaining there until 1883, when he removed to Wales. During his residence in Connecticut he was a member of the Legislature of that state. He has been since going to Wales a successful farmer.

Mrs. Steele's maiden name was Matilda J. Holt and she was born September 15, 1885, at Willington Hill. Conn. They have had four children, three of whom are living, JohnH. Steele of Tollond, Ct., George L. Steele of Palmer and Mrs. H. E. Shaw of Springfield. Both Mr. and Mrs. Steele are in excellent health. The Sacred Heart lawn party and dance held Friday and Saturday evenings proved a decided success and the clergy are well pleased with the result. On Saturday night the crowd was even bigger than that of Friday night and the various tables were genercusly patronized by all. The dancing began in Parish hall at 9:30 o'clock and continued until 11:30 o'clock the dance programme being furnished by Livingstone's orchestra.

o'clock and continued did his o'clock the dance programme being furnished by Livingstone's orchestra. About $660 were realized and this, sum will be used to diffray the expense of the recent renovation of the school and the rectory.

The affair was under the general supervision of Rev. U. O. Bellorose the pastor and he was assisted by the following parishioners: A Paquette, Bryan Hanlon, Solomon Lambert, A. LaRose, A. Dugas, Mr. Chennette and William Murphy and Mrs. J. Champagne, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. A.
